What's on in London

RHS Chelsea Flower Show
24th - 28th May

Be dazzled by colourful flowers, innovative garden designs and amazing exhibits at the prestigious Chelsea Flower Show.

The theme for this year's Chelsea Flower Show is wild and natural spaces, showcasing gardens bursting with native plants and naturalistic designs. Green spaces will be transformed into wildlife-friendly havens, so expect to see wildflower meadows, blossoming hedgerows and lush woodland.

Watch Legally Blonde at Regent's Park Open Air Theatre
13th May - 2nd July

Meet fashion merchandising major Elle Woods (Courtney Bowman) and her college sweetheart Warner Huntington III (Alistair Toovey). Popular, stylish, they have the perfect relationship. That is until Warner heads to Harvard Law School and decides that he needs a more 'serious' kind of girlfriend.

Dumped, Elle embarks on a drastic plan to win him back. But, on the way, she discovers that there's more to love - and definitely Elle Woods - than meets the eye. Directed by Lucy Moss, co-writer and co-director of the smash-hit musical SIX, it's time to bend and snap, people!

Van Gogh, The Immersive Experience
Until 30th May

A 360 degree digital art exhibition in London that invites you to step into the universe of the Dutch genius, Vincent van Gogh.

The retina-battering, virtual-reality post-Impressionist extravaganza that's taken up residence at 106 Commercial Street has all the qualities needed to make it a post-pandemic smash. Why not utterly lose yourself in a load of lush brush-strokes for a few hours?
